

PyxisCare Launches Strategic Health Plan Management

Corporate Advising Service Improves Access to Healthcare Services and Reduces Costs with Custom Solutions

DALLAS/FORT WORTH, Texas, July 31, 2020 – PyxisCare Management, a leader in personalized care coordination for mid-sized companies, individuals and families with complex care needs, announced today the launch of Strategic Health Plan Management, a new offering for corporate clients.

Strategic Health Plan Management (SHPM) is a natural extension of the growth of PyxisCare’s services for corporate and organizational clients. The SHPM solution uses data and years of care management experience to empower companies to take better care of their employees by:

- 1) improving access to and satisfaction with health and wellness providers and services
- 2) stabilizing and reducing skyrocketing healthcare services and benefits costs over time, and
- 3) helping ensure business continuity with custom solutions to address disruptive and potentially devastating health challenges, like COVID-19.

“Today’s market demands innovative approaches to health plan management for companies of all sizes, and specifically small and mid-sized companies. They often bear huge benefits costs without the resources to take full advantage of the coverage they have invested in,” said Mindy Jones, founder and Chief Executive Officer of PyxisCare Management.

“Healthcare providers and services can be difficult to navigate and negotiate. Our nurses and our administration have for years been advising clients on how to maximize healthcare benefit usage, reduce costs, and most importantly, improve health. Now, we’re pairing strategic leadership advising with the work of our talented and compassionate nurses as on-site partners to our corporate clients.”

PyxisCare has long differentiated its services from other care coordination companies by ensuring that every care team is led by a Registered Nurse (RN). These care teams may also include care coordinators, staff support and a business partner. The SHPM model established Personal Health Nurses, who are fully dedicated on-site nurses providing care coordination and real-time support for employees requiring assistance with benefits utilization.

Compassion is at the heart of PyxisCare’s operations, but data drives the strategy and ability to make substantial change, in partnership with clients. In collaboration with Dallas-based Saville, Dodgen & Company PLLC, experts in accounting, tax, estate planning and audit, benefits experts examine utilization trends and leverage insights to enable strategic changes to improve your business.

“We want to transform the way your company utilizes healthcare services and benefits, the employee experience and ultimately, improve both corporate and individual wellness, while saving the company and the employee significant expense,” said John Winslow, Chairman of PyxisCare Management’s Board of Directors. “Strategic Health Plan Management is a natural extension of PyxisCare’s intelligent approach to working with people and with complex situations. This is the right response to market demand for change.”
